Historic Garden Week

STATEWIDE HOUSE & GARDEN TOURS | APRIL 18-25, 2020

Historic Garden Week in Virginia dates to 1929. Early Garden Club of Virginia members hosted a flower show raising $7,000 to save trees planted by Thomas Jefferson at Monticello. Their success inspired the statewide fundraiser.

Over 150 private homes & gardens featured.

29 statewide tours over 8 consecutive days in April.

5,730 tulips & over 2,200 floral arrangements created by club members — and that’s only one of the hundreds of flower varieties our guests will enjoy.

Funding from Historic Garden Week benefits the restoration and preservation of Virginia’s public gardens such as Mount Vernon, the Pavilion Gardens at the University of Virginia and the Woodrow Wilson Presidential Library.

A lot has changed in the past 100 years but the work of the Garden Club of Virginia, which celebrates its Centennial in May of 2020, has not.

BY THE NUMBERS

For eight days every spring visitors are welcomed to Virginia’s most picturesque gardens and private homes showcased in 29 tours during “America’s Largest Open House.” For more than 87 years, Historic Garden Week has been sponsored by the Garden Club of Virginia.
